

The Dividing Light of Religion

Most Divided: Israel

Least Divided: Mexico

In a 2019 survey of over 38,000 respondents spanning 34 countries, Pew Research Center found statistically significant differences in attitudes toward homosexuality based on religion in the 25 countries below. In all cases, respondents who reported religion to be very important were less likely to be accepting of homosexuality, than those who reported religion to NOT be very important.

*Probability (%) of Accepting Homosexuality in Society Among Those Who Think That Religion Is...

